Reigned (79-81) 12 Dates J-BK

( - 81 ) TITUS FLAVIUS SABINUS

VESPASIANUS

Captured Jerusalem (70).

On death of his father, he surprised all by his wisdom and justice. He gave money lavishly to all sufferers in the great fire at Rome, destroyed temple of Jupiter Capitolinus & other Bldgs. At the height of his popularity he suddenly died. He was succeeded by his younger brother DONITIAN.

Domitian (brother of Titus), (son of Vespasian) was judged negatively by history primarily because of his actions at the end of his reign, but his conduct in office was actually more along the line of his father's. He had positive concerns for Roman religion, morality, and society in general, aiming to improve the middle class. This was done to the disadvantage of the upper class and created senatorial opposition
